Transformations of Religion and the Public Sphere
Postsecular Publics

Edited By Rosi Braidotti, Bolette Blaagaard, Tobijn de Graauw and Eva Midden

Special Offer - 30% off with this flyer

Rosi Braidotti is Professor and Director of the Centre for the Humanities at Utrecht University, The Netherlands. Her latest books include The Posthuman (2013), Nomadic Subjects: Embodiment and Sexual Difference in Contemporary Feminist Theory (2011), and Nomadic Theory: The Portable Rosi Braidotti (2011).

Bolette Blaagaard is Assistant Professor of Communications at Aalborg University Copenhagen, Denmark. She has published in the field of journalism and culture and is the co-editor of Deconstructing Europe with Sandra Ponzanesi and After Cosmopolitanism with Rosi Braidotti and Patrick Hanafin. She is also the co-editor of The Subject of Rosi Braidotti: Politics and Concepts (2014) with Iris van der Tuin, and Cosmopolitanism and the New News Media (2013) with Lilie Chouliaraki.

Tobijn de Graauw is Coordinator of the academic programme at the Centre for the Humanities at Utrecht University, The Netherlands. Her background is in political philosophy and during her MA she specialized in global justice and human rights. Her current projects and research interests include citizenship, international relations, religion and environmental issues.

Eva Midden is Assistant Professor in Gender Studies at the Media and Culture Studies Department at Utrecht University, The Netherlands. She was recently involved in the European Research Project 'MIGNET' for which she conducted research on migration, gender and religious practices in new media. Her research interests include feminist theory, postcolonial theory, intersectionality, postsecularism, whiteness, and media analysis.

About the book
Transformations of Religion and the Public Sphere: Postsecular Publics contributes a counter-discourse to the myth of secularism. This myth is a strongly-held belief, predominantly advocated in the westernised world, that progress and modernity is intimately linked to secular politics and social relations. This book develops a range of critiques of this myth through discussions on the current political, social, and technological conditions in which we find ourselves. It explores the political implications of the myth, as well as exploring postcolonial relations, liberal-secularism and religious sentiments, and the mediated public sphere, with an in-depth focus on the Dutch case. Transformations of Religion and the Public Sphere: Postsecular Publics takes issue with the secular condition and accepted beliefs of its liberal emancipatory foundations.

*Special offer with this flyer valid until 31/01/2015

This price is available to individuals only. This offer is not available to our trade and library customers. Offer only valid outside Australasia & Canada. Orders must be placed direct with Palgrave Macmillan.

To order your copy at this special price, visit www.palgrave.com and quote discount code PM14THIRTY, or email your order to the address below.